LAST CHANCE TO RSVP!

Life in a Syrian Refugee Camp: A Talk and Slide Show with Kristin Rust

Wednesday, March 7, 2018

5:30 p.m. -7:30 p.m.

DWPC Clubhouse, Dinner: $18 per person

Kristin Rust will describe the intense challenges and hopes inside a Syrian refugee camp in Greece, where she recently volunteered. In 2010, Kristin took a sabbatical from her public relations business, and spent two years doing international volunteer work in five countries. The Syrian refugee camp in Greece was her 52nd country. Currently the PR Director for Alterra Mountain Company, Kristin is a Denver native, blogger, an avid photographer, and traveler. RSVP to Faith Marcovecchio by March 4th at faithnick@msn.com

DWPC 120th Birthday!

March 18, 2018, 2-4 p.m.

Did you know?

The DWPC was officially founded by Minnie Reynolds and her cohorts on March 18, 1898 to welcome delegates from around the country attending the

National Federation of Women's Clubs Convention held in Denver! Could Minnie Reynolds have imagined when she conceived the Denver Woman's Press Club that year that it would still be going strong 120 years later? One thing that remains unchanged is the desire to connect with like-minded colleagues for support and friendship.

Minnie J. Reynolds

You are cordially invited to "Drive Dull Care Away" by toasting our visionary Founding Mothers and our continuing vitality with a proper glass of bubbly. Birthday cake? Of course! Genial camaraderie? Absolutely. Plan to go all out and come in late-Victorian period costume (or whatever period you choose.) If your corset doesn't fit under a long skirt, a lovely hat will do nicely. A "Magic Lantern" show will cycle through historical club images, and a Trivia Quiz will test your DWPC knowledge for prizes and bragging rights. Veteran members are especially encouraged to attend and to share their DWPC memories in an informal storytelling circle.

RSVP ASAP! by Thursday, March 15 to Joan Sherman (our gourmet cake baker) at jsherman_276@msn.com
