SPECIAL SUNDAY PROGRAM

Amache Preservation Society Program with Marge Taniwaki
Sandra Dallas book talk: *Tallgrass

Sunday, February 9, 2-4 pm
$18 members, $20 non-members
RSVP only at dwpconline.org

After the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, all persons of Japanese extraction were ordered to be removed from the West Coast to internment camps further inland. In mid-February of 1942, Colorado officials were asked to survey the state for "appropriate" housing sites for Japanese evacuees. They settled on Granada in southeast Colorado.

DWPC will commemorate this event in the month it happened by remembering with Marge Taniwaki of the Amache Preservation Society, a volunteer group that maintains the site, museum and research center in Granada, as well as makes people aware of what happened 78 years ago so that it may never happen again.

Marge Taniwaki spent her formative years incarcerated near Death Valley, California, in one of ten major U.S. concentration camps for Americans of Japanese ancestry during World War II. For more than four decades, Marge has advocated for historic clarification of the wholesale violation of human and Constitutional rights by the government. Her willingness to discuss her experience of the mass incarceration is exceptional. Traumatized by their experience, the first and second generations rarely spoke of what they lost or of their time spent behind barbed wire.

We have invited Marge to give us a visual presentation and talk, and DWPC member Sandra Dallas will discuss her book Tallgrass, a poignant story inspired by the site in Granada. Part thriller, part historical novel, Tallgrass is a riveting exploration of the darkest—and best—parts of the human heart. Sandra will have books available.

Japanese cookies and tea will be served. We expect this to be a popular program, so register online ASAP as seats are limited. Cost: $18 members/$20 non-members.

DWPC's UNKNOWN WRITERS CONTEST

Deadline for entry is February 15, 2020

For unpublished, unpaid Colorado writers age 18 and older, the DWPC's Unknown Writers Contest offers recognition, critiques from professional writers, and cash prizes for winners.

Online submission required at dwpconline.org/outreach/unknown-writers-contest/ Help us spread the word.

Entry fees are $25 for fiction and nonfiction, $20 for poetry. Cash prizes are $125 for first place, $75 for second place and $50 for third place in each category. Awards reception is Saturday, April 4, for all entrants.

Our esteemed guest judge is Dr. Clarissa Pinkola Estés. Her book, Women Who Run with the Wolves: Myths and Stories of the Wild Woman Archetype, was on the NYT bestseller list for 144 weeks and is published in 42 languages worldwide. Dr. Estés reports that winning a Denver contest began her adventure as a writer.

Find full details, official criteria and the entry form on the DWPC website. For more information, contact the contest chair, Barbara Warner, 720.502.3994, powerfultools.barb@gmail.com.

Announcements From The DWPC Community

Suffrage Symposium at History Colorado
Saturday, February 22
8:30 am - 3:00 pm

Women's Vote Centennial Symposium

This symposium is open to the public. DWPC members Marcia Goldstein and Gail Beaton will be presenting on the panel "We Led the Way," which will trace how suffrage leaders in Colorado (including DWPC founder Minnie Reynolds) were integral to the effort to pass the 19th amendment.

The day will consist of panel discussions, presentations and a facilitated dialog with participants about new research, creative work and discussion of the legacy of the women's suffrage movement. Morning coffee and a lunch buffet are provided.

NANCY PETERSON is happy to report that people in Lincoln, NE, value her writing. She has given a program on her book, Walking in Two Worlds, for her church circle at Christ United Methodist Church. And the Book Club at The Legacy will be reading her World War II novel Not to be Forgiven in March. She's still missing her friends at DWPC. We miss you too, Nancy.

From DWPC member and LTYM co-producer Ellen Nordberg:
