Silenced and Sidelined: How Women Leaders Find Their Voices and Break Barriers

Women are taught to speak up, develop confidence, leverage their strengths, polish their interpersonal skills, widen their competencies, and fight to sit at the table. But once they make it to that executive chair, they often still find themselves feeling silenced. Silenced and Sidelined helps readers understand how this happens and what they can do to combat it and find their voices again.

Carrie Lynn Arnold, Ph.D, Executive Coach and Principal of The Willow Group, calls attention to the history and stereotypes preventing female leaders from speaking up and speaking out.

Special Presentation on Homelessness

Join DWPC for a special ZOOM event
Thursday, December 3, 6 p.m.

Homelessness is a systems problem, a data problem, and can be solved by working differently together. Learn how 13 communities have reached a "functional zero" homeless population.

Melanie Dickerson from Community Solutions will share success stories and strategies for making homelessness rare and brief - one population at a time. COVID-19 has highlighted this moral imperative and the urgency of finding real solutions.

Announcements From The DWPC Community

Congratulations to Corinne Brown!

Corinne Brown proudly announces that her middle grade novel "Finding Home," the first entry in a series of books inspired by America's wild mustangs, won 2nd place in Nature, Environment and Animals in the Colorado Independent Publishers Association book awards.

That makes three awards for this new book geared toward young readers since its release last September! You can learn more about her books on her website, corrinejoybrown.com.

Please Note: New Email Address for Melody Jones

The DWPC Communications person, Melody Jones, has transitioned to a new email address. This has proven a Herculean transition effort, and she now makes a not-yet-desperate public plea to the fine ladies of the DWPC. Please delete all other emails for her (she admits you may have more than one, and if she's really honest, she has way more than she can possibly remember) and use this one exclusively: melodyjones@melodyjonesauthor.com. Thank you!

THE DWPC CLUBHOUSE IS CLOSED UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE DUE TO THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC.

Check your weekly eConnect to find current information on all of our virtual events scheduled through the rest of the year. Or find them in the Members-Only section of the DWPC website, Virtual Events page.

We look forward to seeing you on Zoom!
