Dear Friends of the DWPC,

We would like to thank you for your generous ongoing support of the DWPC! Along with the rest of the world, we've had to move into the Zoom space so that we may continue offering programs to our members and our friends in a virtual setting.

Several friends signed up for a few recent Zoom events through PayPal. We had added a registration web page that participants were to be redirected to once payment was complete, but discovered that this was not occurring. We were finally able to figure out what was happening behind the scenes with this PayPal function and are happy to announce that this issue is fixed.

From this point forward all those using PayPal through our website and our newsletter will be redirected to a registration page directly from PayPal once payment is complete. There you will be able to register for your event and Zoom will send you a confirmation email. When it is time to log in to the event, please refer to that email. You may even consider saving the Zoom registration information in a document so that you know exactly where it is.

Thank you so much for your patience. For any questions please contact Melody Jones at melodyjones@melodyjonesauthor.com.

Elizabeth Escobedo on Mexican American Women in WWII

Virtual Event via Zoom
Sunday, March 21, 3:00-4:00 pm

We're proud to welcome DU associate professor Elizabeth Escobedo, Ph.D. for our second Women's History Month Salon at 3 p.m. Sunday, March 21. She'll enlighten us on the unprecedented employment avenues that opened up for women and minorities in U.S. defense industries during World War II and how massive population shifts and the war challenged Americans to rethink notions of race. This talk will explore the home front lives of Mexican American women during World War II and the ways in which their life choices would fundamentally influence the history of a generation.

To get the whole story, register in advance for our March 21 Salon by clicking here: <https://us02web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZ0tc-Grpj8pHN2FCZIOHRZHuJ-f7wmol8fu>
