eConnect Volunteer Needed

This newsletter, which serves to remind members and friends of upcoming in-person and virtual events, promote the work of members, and share other news such as job postings and more, needs a new editor.

The eConnect is currently sent out approximately every other week, but the frequency can be changed as needed.

If you are interested in taking on this role, please contact Mindy Sink, 2021-22 DWPC President at mindysink@gmail.com.

A Note from the Program Chair: Be Part of the 2021-22 Programs

The theme for this year's programs is "Brilliance Within Our Ranks." Let's showcase club members in every program from September 2021-May 2022.

Help make this goal a reality by submitting a proposal for a program you would be willing to present.

Let your light shine for the benefit of your fellow DWPC members, guests, and the interested public. Programs will be the third Thursday of every month – LIVE and in our wonderful clubhouse once again. Get creative. Get together with others whose writing specialities coincide with yours. Surprise everyone with what you've accomplished and what you know.

Please send a short proposal, including your Topic, Title of Program, your applicable Experience (briefly), and Format for the program (lecture, monologue, panel, interactive workshop, etc.) to Programs Chair Debra Faulkner at herstory38@hotmail.com.

Garden Party FAQ

Each year, the Denver Woman's Press Club hosts a Garden Party. Here is some information on this event and what it means to you:

When: Thurs., Sept. 9 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Where: Our historic clubhouse

Who: Members and their guests

Why: The purpose of this event is for members to invite their friends or acquaintances who might be interested in becoming members. As you may already know, in order to qualify for membership, one must attend at least one event at the clubhouse and the Garden Party can be that qualifying event.

COVID-19 modifications: If you have not been vaccinated, please wear a mask. If you feel shy, wear a mask. We hope to enjoy the patio and garden as much as possible so there is not a crowd in the house. There will be light refreshments and the joys of re-connecting.

Announcements From The DWPC Community

Suzanne Young Publishes Her 9th Book

DWPC Member Suzanne Young shares this update:

"I just published my 9th book, available in paperback or ebook on Amazon or through my web site SuzanneYoungBooks.com.

The book is #8 in the Edna Davies mystery series, entitled "Murder by Invite." In this story, Edna Davies should be planning a wedding, but when her husband is accused of murder, she drops everything to prove his innocence. With her favorite detective otherwise occupied and her usual confidant in the hospital, Edna has nobody to help her except an old rival. Confusing the situation, a woman shows up who is a dead ringer for Edna's best friend. Nobody knows who she is or where she came from, but Edna believes she's the eye-witness who can clear Albert's name. As she gets ever closer to identifying the doppelganger, Edna begins to wonder if she's hunting the killer."

Congratulations, Suzanne!

Poetry Thoughtshop on Play and the Joy of Writing
