"Brilliance Within Our Ranks" Invitation to Be Part of the 2021-22 Programs

The main reason most of us joined the DWPC was to connect with other professional women writers, to network with and to learn from them. We have some amazing, talented and knowledgeable ladies among our members. So the theme for this year's programs is "Brilliance Within Our Ranks." Let's showcase some of that experience and expertise by featuring club members in every program from September 2021-May 2022.

Help make this goal a reality by submitting a proposal for a program you would be willing to present. Is romance writing your thing? How about sharing your tips for writing sex scenes that make readers blush? Children's book writer? Consider joining other members with the same expertise on a panel addressing how books for young people have changed in recent years. Veteran DWPC member? We'd love to hear from you about how the club and/or your niche of the writing world has evolved since you joined.

You get the idea. Let your light shine for the benefit of your fellow DWPC members, guests, and the interested public. Programs will be the third Thursday of every month – LIVE and in our wonderful clubhouse once again. Get creative. Get together with others whose writing specialties coincide with yours. Surprise everyone with what you've accomplished and what you know.

Please send a short proposal, including your Topic, Title of Program, your applicable Experience (briefly), and Format for the program (lecture, monologue, panel, interactive workshop, etc.) to Programs Chair, Debra Faulkner, at herstory38@hotmail.com.

Allow us all to bask in your brilliance!

Programs already lined up:

October – Marilyn Harmacek and Mary van Meter present: "Glimpsing Beyond the Veil: The Extraordinary Vision of Psychic Mediums"

November – Gail Beaton presents: "Gail Murphy: Colorado's Rosie the Riveter"

February: Kimberly Field and Debra Faulkner present: "Polly and Pinky: Historical Maverick Members of the DWPC"
